The wsdl was generated by Visual Studio 2012 RC so I don't have to do any thing. I would like to see all the steps needed to do this. Thanks in advance. A: Assuming you have installed the WCF SDK and your project is a WCF project. You can add the service reference to the service and then code against the generated client. For example if your service is MyService.svc and it has a contract called MyServiceContract in the service metadata, you can add the reference and then do something like: var service = new MyServiceClient(); service.SetSomeProperty("foobar"); for (int i = 0; i), from which d0c515b9f4
