I propose to be the mother of hatred. -I am the mother of wars. -I am the mother of slavery, and ignorance, and hatred. -I am the mother of robbery, and murder, and war. -I am the mother of disappointment, ruin, and sorrow. I am the mother of shame, dishonor, and disgrace. I am the mother of folly and ignorance. I am the mother of pride, jealousy, envy, and passion. I am the mother of wretchedness and misery. I am the mother of sin, and conscience, and crime. -I am the mother of strife, and discord, and disunion. I am the mother of famine, pestilence, and every kind of calamity. I am the mother of every kind of wickedness, that Satan cannot devise. -I am the source of every bad thing that oppreseth the world. And as the tongue is made for speech, so is the mother of sin for speaking. But I will abase the pride and power of all evil powers, and will exalt the doctrine of good. -I am the pillar of strength to every servant of Christ. -I am the spirit of his mouth, the life and breath of his lips, the health of his tongue, the teaching of his eyes, and the doctrine of his ears. -I am the bread of life, the meat of souls, and the drink of the spirit. I am the source of all faith, comfort, peace, joy, and immortality.Q: How to make a more efficient.getText() or.select()?

Dengue fever is a tropical disease that causes a flu-like illness and can lead to hospitalization and death. It's caused by a virus transmitted by mosquitos and is seen across the tropics. Travelers from US states that have recently had dengue fever outbreaks (1)are at risk for contracting the disease in their native lands. Dengue has been reported or suspected in every state in the continental US, and Hawaii reports 1,721 cases since 2010. A list of states most at risk of having dengue outbreaks (last updated June 2012) is shown in the table at the left. How will this effect Americans traveling outside the United States? According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), travelers from dengue-risk countries are advised to take the following precautions: Adults: - Avoid unprotected mosquito bites in areas where dengue is present. - Take extra steps to protect children from mosquito bites by using mosquito repellent when children are outdoors, wearing protective clothing to cover arms and legs, and putting screens on windows and doors. - Consider the travel history of children: if a child has recently traveled to a dengue-risk country, monitor for symptoms closely during subsequent trips to dengue-risk countries. - In dengue-risk countries, protect children from mosquito bites by using mosquito repellent that contains DEET or Icaridin. - Deet, the primary ingredient in insect repellent, is not approved for children less than 2 years of age and for pregnant women, although it may be appropriate for these patients. - Specially designed insect repellent products for children are available that contain none, minimal, or very
