This May 2009 issue is the 52nd for 2009. The current issue is on stand at the BSEMA 2006 show during September in both Hall 1 and 2. Lots of new stuff this issue with Aprilia Racing. Excellent Winter test ride reports and too much better graphic, drawings and art work for this issue.On Friday, the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) came to power in India's parliament by a majority of seats in a convincing and landslide victory, after ten years in opposition. The reasons for the landslide were not limited to BJP's strong campaign but included the numerous partysponsored scams, some of which had taken place in the previous government. The overall success of BJP's campaign was due to its leader Narendra Modi who has been at the helm of the party since 2001. Mr. Modi has certain characteristics that allowed him to win the votes of the voters. He was able to convince them about him using his "charisma" and by portraying himself as a "leader with a clean mind." Mr. Modi has very good leadership skills and the ability to get along with people from different backgrounds. He has also demonstrated he understands economics. His pro-business image has also helped to win over the support of the business community. Mr. Modi is also a good speaker and has a convincing and sharp speaking style. The support that Mr. Modi enjoys among the Hindu majority is something that has helped him to reach a majority of the voters. Winning these elections gives the BJP a strong majority and puts Mr. Modi in a position where he can implement any of his policies. The BJP's landslide victory also means that India is now open to a return to double-digit growth. This good economic climate helps India to be at the top of the international economy. The big question, however, is what will the new government do with the country's "pro-business" image? Will they be able to return the country to a more balanced economy between the public and private sector, or will Mr. Modi be able to manage the finances well in order to implement his campaign promises? In the past, all the new governments have made efforts to improve relations between the public and private sectors. The previous administration made the most of the initial eleven years of economic stability and growth to develop relations with domestic and foreign business. However, 04aeff104c
